

BIFF Kids Film Academy Summer Camp Application 2010

There are three different camp levels designed for ages 7 - 16. All stage one and stage two camps are independent of one another and can be attended individually or in conjunction with another. Stage three is a two week film camp that is offered only once.

Stage One is designed for children aged 7 - 9 and will introduce the students to the art of filmmaking through acting and the structure of film through storytelling. There will be play time and games that enhance their knowledge of filmmaking. All stage one camps are one week camps that run from 9.00am to 3.00pm, Monday through Friday. After-camp care is available from 3.00pm to 5.00pm at a cost of $15/child/day.

Stage Two is designed for children aged 10 – 13 years old and is more intensive than stage one. These camps will demonstrate what is involved in making a film through acting, camera work and animation specialties. They provide a unique hands-on approach to this art form. All stage two camps are one week camps that run from 9.00am to 3.00pm, Monday through Friday. After-camp care is available from 3.00pm to 5.00pm at a cost of $15/child/day.

Stage Three is especially designed for teenagers who prefer to be immersed in the real filmmaking process. In an intensive two weeks, participants will experience a real film set, performing all filmmaking roles and completing his/her own movie. This camp is offered only once during the summer and runs Monday through Friday from 9:00am - 5:00pm.

Confirmed Instructors are: Lana Young, Andrew Stoneham, Kara Smith, Karli Powell, Erik Goulet

All camps are $275 per week. Camps will be held at BIFF, 15 Front Street, Hamilton.
